

TODD BLYLEVEN

A New Beginning

THE BACKGROUND

- This is not about baseball. It just happens to involve a baseball family.
- On October 1, 2017, Todd Blyleven was at the final concert of Route 91 Harvest, a three-day country music festival held each year in Las Vegas, Nevada.
 - When I first said, “I’m going back in,” my brother-in-law said, “No, you’re not.”
 - I said, “Yes, I am,” and Cathie said, “What do you mean you’re going back in?”
 - And I said, “Baby, I have to go back in. I can’t just let these people die.”
 - And she knew I had to go.
- Moving testimony of Faith and how God touched one man's life to save hundreds, and himself.

MY STORY

My story of survival, sadness, and faith will move you. I will share how God changed my life forever with one touch on the scariest night of my life. How I was not alone running through the terror, and how my Angel protected me through the Valley of Death.

This is a story of transformation, a story of what the words Faith, Power, and Success meant to me before the first shot, and how my marriage and life has changed forever.

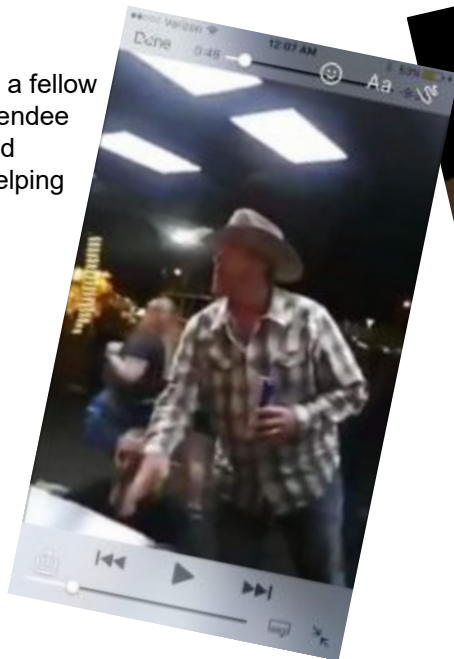

THE END OF NORMAL

Todd Blyleven was a hero during the Las Vegas mass shooting.

That was only the beginning.

Video from a fellow concert attendee shows Todd Blyleven helping wounded strangers.

Todd and Cathie Blyleven took this selfie moments before the shooting began.

Todd Blyleven got a tattoo to honor the memories of those who died that night and those who helped him.
